International Day of Friendship

The International Day of Friendship, observed on July 30th annually, emphasizes the importance of fostering bonds that bridge cultural divides and promote global unity. It serves as a reminder to cherish the significant role friendship plays in promoting peace and harmony worldwide. On this day, people from diverse backgrounds come together to celebrate their connections and engage in acts of kindness and empathy. Various events and activities are organized globally to promote dialogue, cooperation, and understanding among individuals and communities. Through the celebration of friendship, we reaffirm our commitment to building a more inclusive and compassionate world.

International Youth Day

By IROUNMO

International Youth Day, commemorated annually on August 12th, is a significant occasion that highlights the essential role of young individuals in building a more sustainable and inclusive world.

The day provides a platform for young people to voice their concerns, aspirations, and ideas, promoting active engagement in decision-making processes.

Through various events, workshops, and activities, International Youth Day seeks to inspire and encourage youth to take part in social, political, and environmental initiatives that contribute to positive transformation.

It also aims to raise awareness about the unique challenges faced by young people, including issues like unemployment, access to education, and mental health, advocating for solutions and support.

Governments, organizations, and communities around the globe come together to invest in the development and empowerment of young individuals, recognizing their potential as drivers of innovation and progress.

International Youth Day underscores the importance of intergenerational dialogue, fostering understanding and cooperation between different age groups to address global issues collectively.

Ultimately, by celebrating International Youth Day, we reaffirm our commitment to nurturing the next generation of leaders and change-makers who will shape the future of our world.

International Cooperation Day 2023

By IROUNMO

International Day at UNMO was held on Friday 07.07.2023, in the crowded Amphitheater of the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering. For the sixth year in a row, the International Relations Office organized an event that celebrates Erasmus+ programme and the achievements of the University in the field of student and staff mobility. The Day of International Cooperation was opened by the Vice-Rector for International Cooperation, Associate Professor. dr. Rijad Novakovic, who emphasized the importance of international cooperation for the University, as well as the significance of mobility for students and staff, and the determination of the University to be involved in internationalization processes. After the presentation of the work of the Office for International Cooperation, the audience had an opportunity to hear the testimonial of Ilhan Ibrahimkadić, a student at the Faculty of Information Technologies, and Anesa Džihović, a student at the Department of English Language and Literature at the Faculty of Humanities, who spoke about their experience as students on mobility and why, in their opinion, students should decide to go on a mobility. Anes Beganovic, a student at the Faculty of Law The presented the work of the Student Union. The project 'I do not want to be a number on an Employment Bureau' was presented by Ana Krulj and Azra Kozo, students of the Faculty of Economics, while the project 'Ministry of Marketing' was presented by Anes Music, a student of the Faculty of Information Technologies. The 'Smart Mirror' project was presented by the Mimea team: Haris Gusic, Vedad Traljo, Lana Mustafic and Selma Memic, students of the Faculty of Information Technologies. The Mimea Team are finalists in the 2023 Microsoft Imagine Cup competition for students. The international dimension of the event was emphasized by the presence of representatives of 24 universities from the European Union and the Republic of Turkey. The Office for International Cooperation of the Dzemal Bijedic University of Mostar is the organizer of the Day of International Cooperation together with the Office for International Relations of the University of Sarajevo.

UNMO Students

By IROUNMO

The students from the Faculty of Information Technology in Mostar actively participated in a visit to the IT company ZenDev. They eagerly joined the visit as part of their elective "Marketing," which aimed to immerse them in the operations of a thriving technological community. The students enthusiastically sought answers to why ZenDev stands out as one of the most desirable employers and how they have built an exceptional online and offline reputation. ZenDev, a dynamic company with a workforce of 80+, specializes in providing software development and marketing services. Their team of experts passionately works on innovative projects for domestic and international clients, ensuring the delivery of top-quality technological solutions. Valerija Ereš, the brand manager of ZenDev, warmly welcomed the students and engaged them with an informative presentation. She skillfully showcased how ZenDev strategically expands its influence and continuously grows, even amidst challenging times. Throughout the visit, the students explored the company's premises, interacted with teams, and witnessed their work processes firsthand. The brand manager of ZenDev openly shared her experiences, knowledge, and profound passion for technology, creating a contagious enthusiasm that resonated with both FIT and ZenDev.

Excited by the invaluable opportunity, Izudin Dilaver, a first-year FIT student, exclaimed, "This visit has been an incredible experience! We stepped into a real working environment, connected with industry professionals, and gained deep insights into the inner workings of a successful IT company like ZenDev. Their enthusiasm and unwavering dedication to technology have ignited a fire within us, boosting our ambitions and motivation to develop our skills." Rifet Mujakić, another first-year FIT student, delved into technological innovations and advanced IT solutions. Energized by the experience, he shared, "The visit enabled us to immerse ourselves completely in a realm of cutting-edge technology. We realized the significance of collaboration between educational institutions like FIT and industry-leading IT companies. We acquire practical knowledge and gain a profound understanding of the real challenges faced by the IT industry and the ingenious ways to overcome them. Leaving ZenDev's premises with soaring motivation and positive energy, we aspire to become an integral part of their remarkable journey through future employment opportunities and fruitful partnerships. "

Erasmus in Poland?... Why not?

Leaving the comfort of home, your family and friends is certainly not easy. We said goodbye to them and got on a bus that took us into the uncertain, something new and unknown to us. I would be lying if I said that we weren't a little bit afraid of everything that awaited us.

Gliwice, about 200,000 inhabitants, a smaller town located in the south of Poland in the Silesian region was our home. We accommodated in a student dorm, Piast, which was only 30 meters away from the University. I shared the room with Mirza and a Polish guy Dawid. Our other three friends were in the room next to us (Dalila, Sadzida and Merisa). We studied at SUT, Faculty of Civil Engineering.

Living in a dormitory with Polish and International students, numerous parties, gatherings, excursions made it possible for me to meet a large number of young people, whom I am still in touch with. We also attended a Polish language course.

With commitments from college, we had a lot of free time which we used with pleasure for different activities, mostly for traveling.

More than a good scholarship allowed us to complete our unforgettable stay in Poland. We visited many sights in Poland, mainly by train. We got on so well with the Polish students so they invited us home for the weekend (also they visited us in Bosnia).

The SUT is very well organized, among the best in Poland. The professors were friendly and helpful. We have gained a new experience, both through knowledge and through interaction with students from all over the world.

As a conclusion to all of this, I can say that the Erasmus exchange is the best that can happen to you during your college years. It will change your life in a positive way, give you a new experience and most importantly give you the opportunity to get to know yourself.

If you like challenges, adventure, meeting friends - grab the opportunity and apply for an Erasmus exchange.

15% Discount on Mostar-Zagreb Flights for University Members

By IROUNMO

Students, teaching, and non-teaching staff of Dzemal Bijedic University of Mostar will now be able to purchase tickets for the Mostar-Zagreb-Mostar airline route at a 15% discount. This comes as a result of the signing of a collaboration agreement between Dzemal Bijedic University of Mostar and the International Airport Mostar. The agreement was signed on behalf of the University by the Rector, Prof. Dr. Alena Huseinbegović, and on behalf of the International Airport Mostar by the Acting Director, Marko Đuzel, and the Executive Director, Ibrica Berberović.

The initiative to establish this collaboration and sign the agreement was launched by the students of the University's Interior Design Study Program, Edisa Medar, Nedim Repeša, and Omar Nežirić, within the framework of the course "Introduction to Marketing."

"We are pleased to have negotiated benefits for all our fellow male and female students, as well as our professors and administrative staff at Dzemal Bijedic University of Mostar. We hope to contribute to increased mutual visits between Mostar and Zagreb, given that both cities are rich in cultural, historical, and educational values," said the students.

Apart from the discounts offered to students, teaching, and non-teaching staff of Dzemal Bijedic University of Mostar, the agreement also entails joint activities in the future, including visits of students to the premises of Mostar Airport, as well as mutual promotional activities.
